

АНГЛИЙСКИЙ ЯЗЫК

Стратегии понимания текста

*Допущено
Министерством образования Республики Беларусь
в качестве учебного пособия для студентов учреждений высшего образования по специальности “Современные иностранные языки”*

Под общей редакцией проф. Е.Б. Карневской

В 2 частях

Часть 2

4-е издание, переработанное

МИНСК
“ВЫШЭЙШАЯ ШКОЛА”

CONTENTS

Introduction	7
SECTION I. WORK IN A PERSON'S LIFE	9
UNIT I. Ambitions and Opportunities	9
Part I.	9
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: Missed Opportunities (10)
Lesson B. Practice Tests. Text titles: What Are They Looking At? (15) How to Research Your Family Tree (17)
Part II.	18
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: Mrs. Garstin's Hopes and Disappointments (20)
Lesson B. Practice Tests. Text titles: My Mother (27) Behind Every Great Woman (29)
UNIT II. Teaching as a Career	31
Part I.	31
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: Why I Teach? (32)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: What Do Babies Know? (37)
Part II.	39
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: An English Language Teacher in Bath (41)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: The City College of Technology (48)
UNIT III. A Teacher Through a Child's Eyes	50
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: Snowdrops (51)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: My Memories of a Boarding School (58)
Optional Reading	60
Her Life	60
In Praise of Teachers	64
SECTION II. HEALTH AND MEDICAL CARE	69
UNIT I. To Be a Doctor	69
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: How to Be a Doctor (69)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: Coping With Stress (72)

UNIT II. The Past and the Present	73
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: A Letter (74)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: Smallpox – Epitaph for a Killer (80)
UNIT III. Threatening Millions	81
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: Aids Hysteria (82)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: Back-Chat (86)
UNIT IV. Facts and Attitudes	88
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: If Only They Could Talk (89)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: Assisted Suicide (93)
SECTION III. SPORTS AND GAMES	95
UNIT I. Good Friends or Rivals?	95
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: Where Have All the Fans Gone? (96)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: Surf It (100)
UNIT II. Different Attitudes to Sport. Sport at the International Level	101
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: The Sporting Spirit (102)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: Get Active (107)
UNIT III. Sport as Part of a National Culture	109
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: Americans’ Appreciation of Sports (110)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: Well Suited for Shark-filled Waters (115)
SECTION IV. AT THE MAP OF THE WORLD	118
UNIT I. What Is the Earth Coming To?	118
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: The Population Bomb (120)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: There’s Plenty of Room Aboard Planet Earth (125)
UNIT II. Developed and Developing Countries in the Modern World	128
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: Progress in Samoa (129)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: Projects Abroad (135)

UNIT III. Comparisons and Stereotypes	138
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: Traveller's Tales (139)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: Zanzibar (145)
Optional Reading	147
Challenges for Humanity	147
How I Began My Shore Adventure	148
SECTION V. CITY LIFE	151
UNIT I. In a Big City	151
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: Saturday Night in London (152)
Lesson B. Practice Tests. Text titles: The London Underground (157) Shopping in Dublin (158)
UNIT II. Famous Names	159
Part I.	159
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: Shakespeare (160)
Part II.	163
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: Madame Tussaud's (164)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: Vermeer: A Young Woman Standing at a Virginal (168)
UNIT III. Theatre	170
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: Drama in Cambridge (171)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: The Craft of Designing Costume (176)
SECTION VI. GOING PLACES AND SEEING THE WORLD	177
UNIT I. On a Long Railway Journey	177
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: The Trans-Siberian Express (179)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: Slow Train to China (189)
UNIT II. What a Wonderful World	190
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: Traveler (191)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: An Extract from a Novel (196) The Art of Travel (196) Should I Stay or Should I Go? (197)

UNIT III. It's a Delightful Experience	198
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: Advertising a Voyage to the Indonesian Islands (199)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: Make Up Your Mind (205)
SECTION VII. THE CULTURAL AND ETHICAL HERITAGE OF THE BIBLE	208
UNIT I. Creation of the Universe	208
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text title: Six Days of Creation (209)
Lesson B. Practice Test. Text title: History Set in Stone (216)
UNIT II. The Temptation and Fall of Man	217
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text titles: Life in God's Garden (218) The Fall of Man (219)
Lesson B. Practice Test (227)
UNIT III. The Ethics of a Christian Marriage	230
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text titles: The Sacrament of Martimony (231)
Lesson B. Practice Test (237)
UNIT IV. Spiritual Standards of Christianity	240
Lesson A. Intensive Reading. Text titles: Cristian Virtues (241) Sins and Struggle With Them (243)
Lesson B. Practice Tests (251)
Literature	254

INTRODUCTION

This book is designed for Second-Year University and College students majoring in English (from Upper-Intermediate to Advanced levels). It is aimed at enhancing the students' ability to understand authentic English texts of different stylistic varieties and genres.

Reading in this book, as well as in Book 1, is treated as a self-contained course with its own specific requirements to the overall structure and composition. At the same time Reading Comprehension is integrated into the general syllabus of English speech practice primarily through the choice of reading materials. These are centered around the following broad areas, or topics: Work in a Person's Life, Health and Medical Care, Sports and Games, At the Map of the World, City Life, Going Places and Seeing the World, The Cultural and Ethical Heritage of the Bible.

In accordance with the number of topics the book contains 7 Sections consisting of 2–4 units each. The units in their turn are further subdivided into 2 lessons: A and B.

Lessons A presuppose the students' out-of-class preparation for an in-class detailed analysis of the essential elements of the text contents and structure. Special emphasis is laid on features such as linking, cohesion, expressiveness and modal-stylistic variation. The lessons include three main stages: Reading and Comprehension Tasks; Text Features and Language Focus; Follow-Up or Discussion, each stage providing a set of vocabulary exercises and communicative activities.

Vocabulary development and reinforcement is provided in two steps. Apart from pre-reading word lists intended as an aid for comprehension there are vocabulary tasks in Language Focus including multiple choice and matching exercises, word-meaning definition and word-building practice as well as Russian-English translation, serving as a bridge to implementing new vocabulary.

The purpose of the Discussion and Follow-Up stage is to stimulate the students' creative speaking and writing skills by providing them with the background information and relevant issues and ideas encouraging communicative activity.

Lessons B focus on the skills and strategies of 'quick' reading: synthesizing, summing up and comparing information, extracting main ideas, identifying topic (key) sentences, completing paragraphs, etc.

SECTION I

WORK IN A PERSON'S LIFE

UNIT I. Ambitions and Opportunities

A man can succeed at almost anything for which he has unlimited enthusiasm.

Charles M. Schwab

PART I

LESSON A. INTENSIVE READING

I. Reading and Comprehension Tasks

1. The following words are essential for understanding and discussing the main ideas of the text. Learn the meaning and pronunciation of these words.

Permanent Under-Secretary: senior civil servant responsible for advising the elected Minister and effectively in charge of the department.

The crisis in 1973: the oil crisis which caused the price of oil to rise very quickly and was responsible for a fall in industrial production.

Palm Springs: a place in California famous for the wealth of the inhabitants.

Nouns

gambler [ˈɡæmblə] a person who risks money or possessions on cards, horse races, etc misery [ˈmɪzəri] great suffering or discomfort caused by being very poor or sick

Verbs

anticipate [ænˈtɪsɪpeɪt] think about something that is going to happen and be ready for it invest [ɪnˈvest] give money to business companies to get profit

miss [mɪs] fail to use an opportunity to do smth part [pɑ:t] end a relationship with someone regard [rɪˈɡɑ:d] think about smth in a particular way succeed [səkˈsi:d] smb come next after smb to take their place in a position

Adjectives

civil ['sɪvəl] connected with the ordinary people or things in a country rather than the military ones crazy ['kreɪzi] not sensible reasonable ['ri:zənəbl] fair and sensible

Adverbs

inevitably [ɪ'nevɪtəblɪ] unavoidably sharply ['ʃɑ:pli] quickly and suddenly

2. Practise the pronunciation of the following proper, geographical and official names.

Paulette [pɔ:'let]

Marilyn ['mæri:lɪn]

James Graham ['dʒeɪmz 'græm]

Alaska [ə'læskə]

Los Angeles [lɒs 'ændʒəli:z]

Palm Springs ['pɑ:m 'sprɪŋz]

Government Service ['gʌvəmənt 'sɜ:vɪs]

Martian Invaders ['mɑ:ʃən ɪn'veɪdəz]

Social Security ['səʊʃəl sɪ'kjʊərɪti]

Merchant Navy ['mɜ:tʃənt 'neɪvi]

3. Read the text and do the tasks that follow.

Missed Opportunities

It was about six o'clock on a winter afternoon. Everyone else who had attended James Graham's 'goodbye party' had gone home. I had intended to go home myself but James insisted on my staying. He looked rather sad and lonely, and I knew how he felt because I had been in the same position two years earlier when he had succeeded me as Permanent Under-Secretary to the Ministry of Social Security.

I imagined he was looking forward to his retirement because he would have more time to spend in his garden but was wondering if he would find enough to do.

"It's not easy, after a lifetime of service", I said to cheer him up, "but at least you've got a good pension."

“Yes, I’m not worried about that”, he said. “I was thinking about my brother, actually.”

I had never heard that he had a brother, so naturally I was curious. “Rick’s about ten years younger than me”, James said. “He’s always been regarded as ‘the black sheep’ of the family. As you know, my father was a senior civil servant and he expected us both to follow him into Government service. I did, but Rick didn’t. When he was 17, he ran away and joined the Merchant Navy. My father couldn’t do anything to prevent it as Rick was already at sea. We should have done something to bring him back and find him a reasonable job, but he never answered our letters. We heard nothing until a few years later, when he sent us a postcard from Los Angeles to say he was getting married. He had got a job as a film extra*, and the leading actress, Paulette, had fallen in love with him.

Once he had decided to become an actor, he should have taken it seriously but he just had a good time and inevitably there was a divorce. If Paulette had been like my wife, Margaret, she wouldn’t have had any more to do with him, but they parted good friends and she even invested in his crazy schemes. He rang me up one day and asked me what I thought of investing money in Alaska! If they hadn’t found oil there, he would have lost all the money...” “Then they found oil,” I said, interrupting him.

“Oh, yes. They had no right to do so, up there in the ice and snow. However, they did well as the price of oil had gone up sharply after the crisis in 1973 and Rick became a rich man. Anyone with any sense would have stopped there, but instead of that he threw all the money into another mad idea. By that time, he had married again, and he and his wife – Marilyn, I think her name is – had two children. He should have had some consideration for them but instead he put all the money into some Japanese games called “Martian Invaders”, or something like that...”

“So where is he now?” I asked, anticipating a further tale of disaster.

“Oh, he’s a millionaire. He retired five years ago, and lives in Palm Springs. He belongs to the same golf club as Bob Hope. It makes you wonder whether we did the right thing, you and I. Perhaps we should have been gamblers, like Rick”.

“But you have to take into account that for every Rick there are 100 people who lose everything and finish up in misery.”

“No doubt”, he said, “but I can’t help thinking that when I was young I believed Rick had missed all his opportunities. And now I wonder whether I was the one who did that.”

(From “Synthesis Advanced”)

* film extra – one hired to act in group scenes in a motion picture or stage production.

4. Give evidence from the text to prove or disprove the following statements.

1. The narrator and James had been colleagues for a long time.
2. James didn't need to worry about his financial position in the future.
3. James had been in the civil service all his life.
4. Rick had always stayed in close contact with the family.
5. Rick remained true to his first choice of a career.
6. James had always approved of his brother's bold undertakings.
7. Rick was living and working in an elite area in California.
8. Rick's case is rather an exception than a rule.
9. James often wondered whether he had always made the right decisions.

5. Focus on the details of the text to answer these questions.

1. Why did the narrator stay behind at the party?
2. What was Rick's first independent decision?
3. Why couldn't the family do anything to bring him back?
4. How did Rick meet his first wife?
5. Did James believe they would find oil in Alaska?
6. Was investing money in Alaska the last of Rick's crazy schemes?
7. Where did Rick move after he had retired?

II. Text Features and Language Focus

1. Text Interpretation: Inference

When reading a story we have to take into account the attitude of the person who is telling it, and sometimes not all the information we can deduce from it, is expressed clearly. It is then inferred from the facts and opinions given.

• Decide which of the following interpretations is true.

1. James blamed
 - a) his father for Rick's decision to run away.
 - b) himself.
 - c) Rick.
2. He thinks Rick
 - a) should have stayed in the Merchant Navy.

- b) would have been a good actor if he had made an effort.
 c) owed it to Paulette to earn money as an actor.
3. He thinks Rick's investments succeeded because he was
 a) clever.
 b) dishonest.
 c) lucky.
4. His remark about Rick's second wife suggests that
 a) he has a bad memory.
 b) he has never met her.
 c) he doesn't like her.
5. The impression we have of James' attitude towards his brother in telling the story is that
 a) he is very fond of him.
 b) he would have been a successful gambler himself.
 c) he thinks life is unfair.

2. Expressiveness

The language of the text is, on the whole, neutral both in style and in the degree of expressiveness. In other words, it is neither formal nor conversational in its vocabulary or structure and it is not emotionally coloured either. Yet, the text is not devoid of some features of expressiveness without which the narration would be less interesting for the reader. These features particularly include:

- a) idioms and set phrases such as e.g. 'the black sheep', etc.;*
b) words and word-combinations conveying the author's opinion and evaluation of the facts and events being described, e.g. 'a crazy scheme'.

- Go over the list of word-combinations below and pick out those which add expressiveness to the text.

a crazy scheme	finish up in misery
a further tale of disaster	have consideration for smb
a mad idea	put money into smth
the black sheep	take smth into account
look forward to	take smth seriously
go up sharply	throw money into smth
not to have any sense	make smb wonder

III. Reinforcing Vocabulary

1. Look at the words below and decide on their meaning in the text choosing the correct variant.

actually	a) at the moment	b) urgently	c) in fact
attend	a) assist	b) be present	c) enjoy
consideration	a) care	b) advice	c) doubt
curious	a) interested	b) intelligent	c) strange
miss	a) be absent from	b) long for	c) lose a chance
reasonable	a) decent	b) justifiable	c) wise
sense	a) creativity	b) practicality	c) imagination

2. Replace the italicized words in the sentences below by their equivalents from the text.

1. Mr. Brown took over after I had retired.
2. As the prices of gas had risen dramatically the overall economic situation changed for the worse.
3. When deciding on your final assessment the teachers will take your recent illness into consideration.
4. If that teenager doesn't stop shoplifting, he'll end up in prison one day.
5. The community authorities are encouraging businessmen to put money into local industry.
6. Their marriage was bound to break up eventually.
7. She has always been regarded as a failure by the members of her family.
8. We have always thought of Jack as our personal friend.
9. Any reasonable person must agree that praising children for good behaviour is better than punishing them for bad.
10. Anyone interested in the history of art is recommended to read this book.

3. Fill in the appropriate boxes with the words from the text related to the ones in the chart.

Verbs	Nouns	Adjectives/Adverbs act consider million miserable reason retire success

4. Translate the following sentences into English using the vocabulary of the text.

1. Когда генеральный директор одной крупной фирмы был вынужден рано уйти на пенсию, его старший сын сменил его на посту.
2. Он, пожалуй, был одним из самых способных студентов в университете, но, к сожалению, упустил свои возможности и проработал всю жизнь рядовым клерком.
3. Мой отец никогда не настаивал на том, чтобы я пошла по его стопам, но очень огорчился, когда я сказала, что предпочитаю работать в рекламном бизнесе.
4. Если бы я был на вашем месте, я бы не имел ничего общего с людьми такого сорта.
5. Мы часто задумываемся над тем, правильно ли мы поступаем в жизни.
6. Один из ее братьев был картежник, который проиграл всё, что у него было, и закончил жизнь в нищете.
7. Мой знакомый сказал, что с нетерпением ждет того момента, когда уйдет на пенсию, чтобы заняться своим любимым делом.
8. Это была безумная идея – отправиться в горы в такую плохую погоду.
9. Он много раз пытался найти приличную работу, но неизбежно терпел неудачу.
10. Они развелись, но расстались хорошими друзьями.
11. Если бы мне предложили совершить поездку в Лондон, я бы никогда не упустила этот шанс.

IV. Follow-Up Activity

- Share your ideas about taking opportunities that life offers. Do you think it is worth taking risks in life?

LESSON B. PRACTICE TESTS

Test 1

You are going to read an article about the importance of body language and appearance to police officers, customs officers, and job interviewers. Read the article and do the tasks that follow.

What Are They Looking At?

Police officer

Some people turn into nervous wrecks simply by walking past a police officer. They may be guilty of nothing more than jaywalking back in 1992, but their body language still screams ‘Arrest me!’

If you fall into this category it's not all bad news. The police officer isn't paying attention to your non-verbal communication. In fact, they're trained not to.

"Police officers are told not to judge somebody by their appearance," says a City of London Police spokesman. "What is relevant is whether they're breaking the law or not."

However, the British police are making increasing use of psychological profiles of different criminal types. It's well known that the majority of crimes are committed by males under 20, but you're also more likely to be an offender if you have a short, muscular build and tattoos.

One area of police work where non-verbal communication is of vital importance is the interview room. Sadly, the police were unwilling to share their body language tips with us.

Customs officer

"Anyone can be stopped and checked by Customs and Excise officials," explains a spokesperson. "There are no hard and fast rules. We've stopped people dressed as nuns before. Any sign of fear is one thing we do look out for."

This might involve singling out people who walk through the Nothing to Declare door a little too quickly, sweat heavily, or avoid eye-contact. However, self-conscious bravado may also attract attention. Looking unusual can also lead to problems for smugglers. "Two years ago a woman came into Gatwick with very striking braided hair. A female Customs officer thought there was something odd about it, and took her to one side. It turned out that she had hundreds of grammes of cocaine hidden in the braids."

However, where you've come from is as important as the way you walk. "We do target certain routes. We don't check flights from Japan as often as ones from Amsterdam."

Job interviewer

"First impressions come across in five seconds," according to a personnel adviser. "Most of the information taken in then is based on people's prejudices which, unfortunately, count for a lot."

Apparently, words contribute to only about seven per cent of the overall impression a person communicates. Tone of voice makes up 38% and the rest is non-verbal body language, clothes, and facial expressions.

"You would look for the signs that someone was lying: perhaps they are touching their face or nose, or they may avoid eye-contact and fiddle with a collar or tie. When people are lying, they will sometimes exaggerate their body language. On the other hand, they may try to hide it and be too static. The trouble is these things could just be symptoms of nerves!”

“I’ve even heard of really strange interviews where the interviewer lies on the floor behind the desk to see how the person reacts. The one who gets the job comes along and does the same thing.”

1. Decide whether these statements are True or False.

1. Our body language (the way we communicate our thoughts and feelings with our bodies rather than with words) is of equal importance to all three groups.
2. You would probably be stopped by a police officer if you looked nervous and guilty.
3. Most criminals are male and under twenty.
4. If you don’t want to be stopped by customs officials, walk quickly past them looking confident.
5. What we say at a job interview is more important than how we say it.
6. When people lie, they exaggerate their body language.

2. Check your understanding of essential details by answering the following questions.

1. ‘Their body language screams “Arrest me!” ’ What information does their body language give the police officer?
2. Why do you think the writer says “Sadly, the police were unwilling to share their body language tips with us”?
3. Why might a smuggler pass through customs dressed as a nun?
4. According to the information given in the article, why is it important to look smart at a job interview?
5. What kind of person do you think the interviewer who lay on the floor was looking for? What advantage would such an unconventional interview technique have over more conventional techniques?

(From “Landmark” by Simon Haines & Barbara Stewart)

Test 2

1. Read the following text and decide which word fits best each space.

How to Research Your Family Tree

Creating a family tree can be an absorbing and rewarding pastime, and who knows where it might (1) ... ? You might discover you have royal (2) ... , a hereditary title and a coat of arms, a forgotten legacy or even an infamous mass murderer in the family. You’ll be creating a(n) (3) ... and valuable resource to share and a fascinating insight into your own life and times for future (4) Before you begin, ask around to see if any of the (5) ... research has already been done. Most families have at least one (6) ... historian whose records may be able to get you off to a good (7) Older family members can give you a first-hand (8) ... of recent family history, though remember to (9) ... some tact and always be sensitive to any skeletons and scandals that you may uncover. Official documents such as old birth, marriage and death certificates are an invaluable (10) ... and family photo albums can provide a(n) (11) ... of information. Postcards and letters also often contain useful historical snippets and even (12) ... photographs of places and buildings can provide additional (13) ... of exploration. Start with an Internet search of your family name. You may come (14) ... a family home page providing a link to long-lost relations or overseas (15) ... of the family.

- | | | | |
|-------------------------|---------------|----------------|-------------|
| 1. A guide | B follow | C lead | D direct |
| 2. A ancestry | B lineage | C pedigree | D descent |
| 3. A sole | B unique | C only | D single |
| 4. A offspring | B generations | C ages | D progeny |
| 5. A inaugural | B beginning | C introductory | D initial |
| 6. A amateur | B beginner | C apprentice | D unskilled |
| 7. A beginning | B initiation | C start | D outset |
| 8. A way | B access | C account | D entrance |
| 9. A exercise | B have | C apply | D practice |
| 10. A fount | B origin | C root | D source |
| 11. A wealth | B abundance | C profusion | D richness |
| 12. A indistinguishable | B obscure | C unknown | D nameless |
| 13. A courses | B passages | C avenues | D ways |
| 14. A around | B to | C across | D through |
| 15. A branches | B portions | C sections | D parts |

(From "Gold Exam Maximiser" by Sally Burgess with Richard Acklam)

PART II

LESSON A. INTENSIVE READING

I. Reading and Comprehension Tasks

1. The following words are essential for understanding and discussing the main ideas of the text. Learn the meaning and pronunciation of these words.

Nouns

affability [ˌæfəˈbɪləti] a state of being pleasant, friendly and easy to talk to income [ˈɪnkʌm] the money that someone earns heir [eə] smb who has the legal right to receive smb's property, money or title when that person dies mercy [ˈmɜːsi] a kind or forgiving attitude towards smb parsimony [ˈpɑːsɪməni] formal, the fact of being extremely unwilling to spend money solicitor [səˈlɪsɪtə] a lawyer who prepares legal documents and gives legal advice suitor [ˈsjuːtə] a man who wants to marry a particular woman title [ˈtaɪtl] a name that describes smn's position

Verbs

advance [ədˈvɑːns] oneself move forward come out [ˈkʌm ˈaʊt] (here, of a young lady) be officially introduced in upper class society cherish [ˈtʃerɪʃ] love smb or smth very much and want to protect smb/smth commit [kəˈmɪt] oneself with someone feel or get attached to someone cultivate [ˈkʌltɪveɪt] here, make an effort to develop a friendly relationship with smn because you want smth from them despise [dɪˈspaɪz] dislike and have no respect for smb/smth flatter [ˈflætə] oneself choose or believe smth good about yourself and your abilities inspire [ɪnˈspaɪə] give smb the desire, confidence to do smth nag [næg] keep complaining about someone's behaviour or ask someone to do smth in a very annoying way propose [prəˈpəʊz] to smb ask smn to marry smn revolt [rɪˈvəʊlt] against refuse to accept smn's authority or obey rules sacrifice [ˈsækrɪfaɪs] stop doing smth you like in order to get smth more important sneer [sniə] show that you have no respect for smb/smth by the expression of your face or by the way you speak yield [jɪːld] stop resisting smb/smth

Adjectives

amusing [əˈmjuːzɪŋ] funny and entertaining dazzling [ˈdæzəlɪŋ] extremely beautiful exasperated [ɪgˈzɑːspəreɪtɪd] extremely annoyed, especially if you can't do anything to improve the situation exquisite [ekˈskwɪzɪt] extremely beautiful and delicately made industrious [ɪnˈdʌstriəs] tending to work hard painstaking [ˈpeɪnzˌteɪkɪŋ] careful and thorough shrewd [ʃru:d] good at judging what people or situations are really like subdued [səb'dju:d] unusually quiet vivacious [vi'veɪʃəs] a woman who has a lot of energy and a happy attractive manner

Adverbs

cordially ['kɔ:diəli] in a friendly but polite and formal way tartly ['tɑ:tlɪ] sharply and unkindly

2. Practise the pronunciation of these proper and geographical names.

Bernard Garstin ['bɜ:nəd 'gɑ:stɪn]	Walter Fane ['wɔ:lətə 'feɪn]
Indian Civilian ['ɪndiən sɪ'vɪljən]	Hong Kong ['hɒŋ 'kɒŋ]
Geoffrey Dennison ['dʒɛfrɪ 'denɪsən]	Liverpool ['lɪvəpu:l]
Northern Circuit ['nɔ:ðən 'sɜ:kɪt]

3. Guess the meaning of the following words and try to find Russian or Belarusian words related to them.

ambition [æm'bɪʃən]	domestic [də'mestɪk]
baronetcy ['bærənetsɪ]	panic ['pænɪk]
confidence ['kɒnfɪdəns]	perfect ['pɜ:fɪkt]
cultivate ['kʌltɪveɪt]	standard ['stændəd]

4. Read the text and do the tasks that follow.

Mrs. Garstin's Hopes and Disappointments

Mrs. Garstin was a hard, cruel, managing, ambitious, parsimonious and stupid woman. She was the daughter, one of five, of a solicitor in Liverpool, and Bernard Garstin had met her when he was on the Northern Circuit. He had seemed then a young man of promise and her father said he would go far. He hadn't. He was painstaking, industrious, and capable, but he had not the will to advance himself. Mrs. Gastin despised him. But she recognized, though with bitterness, that she could only achieve success through him, and she set herself to drive him on the way she desired to go. She nagged him without mercy. She discovered that if she wanted him